aSPECIALafternoon fashioned OUT

Kicking off THE 16TH EDITION OF ASVOFF with a dynamic performance by Thomas Dupal, renowned for his powerful fusion of poetry, dance, and intense emotional expression, as well as his reflections on the impact of technology. This is followed by a nostalgic look at fashion 20 years ago. Imagine a time without mobile phones or influencers, long before streaming became the norm. In 2002 and 2003, I collaborated with Disciple Films on "Fashioned Out," capturing the essence of Paris, Milan, London, and New York for Galeries Lafayette. For those of you who were just 5 years old back then here is fashion as it was, and will never be again.

CHINESE FILMS

Gemma A Williams and Camille Mervin Leroy, Curators

Since the 2000s, Chinese fashion has flourished, driven by domestic brands and personal style exploration. Fashion evolves rapidly, propelled by social media and a youthful demographic. Emerging designers highlight innovation. Film captures this cultural explosion, offering a complex, creative view of Chinese fashion's dynamic world, where tradition meets modernity.

(UNTITLED) AMERICAN STORY

a film by VINCENT GAGLIOSTRO

Vincent Gagliostro will introduce his film

Danny and Casper, entangled in the lies of America, escape from the harsh realities of their lives in twenty-first century Los Angeles. Their destination is not just a physical place but also one of personal and emotional transformation. The film paints a portrait of twenty-first century America through queer eyes.

in conversation with Janine Gaëlle Dieudji (curator)

In the frameworks of
NEW SUNS exhibition
Galerie Gomis x Sheriff Gallery
07.11 - 11.01, 53 Rue Turenne

As part of the ASVOFF Festival, ERE Collective has the pleasure to invite photographer and filmmaker David Uzochukwu in conversation with Janine Gaëlle Dieudji, Curator, Smithsonian National Museum of African Art (Washington DC).

In celebration of David Uzochukwu's solo exhibition NEW SUNS curated by Ekow Eshun, this talk touches on topics of identity, representation and the natural environment. David's work stands out through surreal landscapes and empowered bodies, taking the spectator into new realities that seem bittersweet considering today's inequalities. With a visceral approach in both photography and film, David impresses with bold storytelling that both mesmerizes and challenges his audience.

David Uzochukwu's work stretches from photography over fashion film, like DIMENSIONISM for Iris van Herpen, to his latest work as episodic director for German TV series "Schwarze Früchte".

PERFORMANCE BY AIDAN AMORE

If born in 16th century, we would call Aidan Amore a Renaissance man. But our times force hashtags upon us to try and pin down a millennial #CreActor, who revels in challenging clear-cut labels. Spotlighted by the press (Les Inrocks, Mediapart, Toute La Culture, etc.), Amore is a recipient of the ASVOFF15 People's Choice Award created by Diane Pernet, which he shares with his closest artistic collaborator, Kaitsauka®, member of the Siksika Blackfoot Nation. Together, they pursue the mission of "creating uneKSpectedness in film, music, art & fashion".
